Briefs.

—Captain H. A. Smith, of Rockford, is a guest at Camp Palmer.

—Remember the military dance at the Rides' armory this evening.

—Mr. Lon Peckham is up from Chicago to spend a few days with his friends.

—Miss Maggie Luman is in the city, visiting friends, who are glad to welcome her.

—W. W. Cole's circus will pitch their mammoth tents in Janesville on Tuesday, October 9th.

—Rev. T. W. McLean, of Kalamazoo, Michigan, chaplain of the first regiment, is at Camp Palmer.

—The Catholic cornet band will give an open air concert in front of the Rides' armory, this evening.

—Mr. Albert P. Ayer, local editor of the Beloit Free Press, was a welcome caller at the Gazette office to-day.

—Mrs. W. S. Elliott, of Chicago, nee Miss Linda Harris, of this city, is visiting at her cousin's Mr. James Harris, of South Jackson street.

—Steven Slaymaker has been engaged to play a cornet in the Catholic temperance brass band at Janesville during the military encampment.—Beloit Free Press.

—Mrs. L. Ingledew and daughter, of Chicago, are in the city, the guests of the family of Mr. L. Field, South Main street. They will remain in the city until the first of September.

—Judge Cassaday, of the supreme court, and wife, and their daughter Ella, and Mrs. G. M. Hanchett, have gone east on a visit of four weeks. They will visit New York and Philadelphia, while enjoying their ramble.

—An immense crowd of people were in the vicinity of the corn exchange square last evening, to listen to the excellent music rendered by the Bower City band.

The square and all the walks and streets in that neighborhood were full of people, who frequently manifested their appreciation of the choice music by loud applause.

—Rowley Bros., who recently purchased the photograph gallery of Mr. Turner, in the Elmhurst block, are showing some very fine pictures, which is a sufficient guarantee that they are first class artists. They propose to give our citizens first class pictures at the very lowest rates, and invite the public to call and inspect their work.

—The Wisconsin hospital for the private cure of the insane, has been located at Lake Geneva, that village offering better inducements than any of the cities in southern Wisconsin. Janesville made a mistake in letting such an institution go from this city. It will be an important gain for that beautiful village.

—The arrangements are all completed for the social dancing party to be given by the members of Washington engine company No. 1, at the Rides' armory on Friday evening; the committee will assure all who attend a pleasant evening.

Anderson's full orchestra will be in attendance, and Mr. George Shurtleff will furnish the supper. All are invited, and will be cordially received.

—To-day we received a pleasant call from Lieutenant David Pierce, of the First United States artillery, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. John Watkins.

Lieutenant Pierce was graduated from West Point in 1877, and has been with his regiment ever since that time. He has been selected by the war department at Washington, one of the tactical officers at West Point, which is a very important appointment, for four years, and is an honor that few graduates can win. Since his graduation he has been on the Pacific coast.

—We were informed to-day by Professor Burton, that Mr. O. H. Fethers has purchased the residence property belonging to him and situated in the second ward and now occupied by Mr. A. P. Lovejoy. Mrs. Fethers will return from the east about the 25th of the present month, and on the first of September they will take possession of their new home. It is a handsome piece of property and is finely located, and with such spirits about it as Mr. and Mrs. Fethers, will become one of the brightest homes in the city.

Harry Weber's Engagement.

Mr. Harry Webber, the widely known and very popular comedian began an engagement of four performances at Myers opera house last night. The opening piece was the laughable comedy of "Nip and Tuck" which has furnished so much amusement for thousands in all parts of the country. In the hands of such an accomplished and successful comedian as Mr. Webber, it has become very popular, and last night the broad humor of the play was brought out with such force as to keep the audience in a state of constant laughter. Mr. Webber has excellent support, and prominent in the company is Little Carrie Webber, young in years, but wonderfully mature in her ability to act.

To-night the company will play a comedy drama, "A Life's Revenge," or, "The Lancashire Lass," which is a good piece and will be well played. The scenery was especially painted by Messrs. Losman & Landis, of Chicago, for Mr. Webber.

There will be a change in the programme which has heretofore been published. On Friday night, "The Corsican Brothers" will be given, to conclude with the farce "To Oblige Benson." In the Corsican Brothers, the scenic effect will be remarkably effective. "Our Regiment" will be given on Saturday evening.

Griggs' Glycerine Salve.

The best on earth can truly be said of Griggs' Glycerine Salve, which is sure cure for cuts, blisters, sores, burns, wounds, and all other sores. Will positively cure piles, tetanus and skin eruptions. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Only 25 cents. For sale by Stearns & Baker.

Our readers will find in the medicines advertised in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, opposite the postoffice, that they keep all the principal patent medicines in the market, and undoubtedly have the largest stock in the city.

CAMP PALMER.

The Camp of the First Regiment Fully Organized.

The Dress Parade on Bunker Hill Last Evening.

A Large Number of Visitors from the City Present.

The camp of the First Regiment, W. N. G., was duly organized yesterday afternoon, as stated in last evening's Gazette, all the companies belonging to the regiment having arrived. The camp is pleasantly located in the beautiful grounds belonging to the estate of the late Dr. F. H. Judd, just north of St. Mary's avenue, and fronting on the railroad track. There being plenty of shade trees, the military when not in their tents can enjoy themselves in the shade. The camp is also free from dust, which adds much to their comfort. The tents are arranged in regular order, each company having a street of its own, duly marked by the name of the company. The men are in the best of spirits, but four being reported on the sick list this morning, one each from companies D, F, G, and H, and nothing serious ailing these.

There was a large number of people who visited Camp Palmer last evening, to witness the dress parade, the first of the encampment. All were highly entertained and pleased with the movements of the troops in "marching up the hill and then down again." On dress parade, the regiment, under the command of Colonel W. B. Britton, went through the regimental drill, or manual of arms, the colonel giving his orders in a clear and distinct voice, notwithstanding the report that "the parade was under command of Lieut. Col. H. H. McLeanogran," and the charge that Colonel Britton was indisposed. Colonel McLeanogran was present, however, and occupied his position in the field, as were all the staff officers except Major Reed, who has not yet put in an appearance at camp. The parade ground, Bunker Hill, is well adapted for the maneuvers of the regiment, there being plenty of level ground and affording people in carriages as well as those on foot, a good opportunity of witnessing the movements.

The Catholic cornet band are in camp with the regiment and renders excellent music for the occasion.

The following order was promulgated at dress parade last evening:

CAMP PALMER.
JANESVILLE, WIS., AUG. 8, 1883.
General Orders, No. 12:

This camp will be known and designated as Camp Palmer, in honor of General Henry Palmer, surgeon general of the state.

On entering upon the duties of this, our second regimental encampment, the colonel commanding wishes to impress upon each and every member of the regiment the necessity of making it a camp of instruction. We are here to learn; let us see to it that we improve the opportunity. A special feature of this encampment will be the proper observance of the duties of the guard.

Officers of the guard will see to it that the non-commissioned officers and privates are properly instructed in their duties.

The grounds we occupy are private grounds, the use of which is donated by the owners. The commanding officers expect that the regiment will leave the camp grounds and surrounding property in as good condition as we find them.

This is, so to speak, the home of the regiment. It is our permanent headquarters, and your colonel expects that your conduct both in and out of camp, will be such as to sustain the good reputation you have already acquired.

The following is announced as the time for the various calls until further orders.

FOUND AT LAST.

The Body of Willie Hines Found Near Afton.

About eight o'clock last evening Marshal Hogan received a dispatch from Afton stating that the body of little Willie Hines had been found. The body was found at the head of one of the islands about three-quarters of a mile below Afton, the searching party who found the body consisted of Thomas F. Hines, a brother of little Willie, Thomas Rutting, Patrick Butler and Patrick Murphy. The body was taken to the shore, when one of the party went to Afton and sent a dispatch to Marshal Hogan. Aid J. B. McLean, of the fifth ward, procured a team and started down the river to bring the body to the city, but in the mean time a farmer living near by volunteered to bring the body, and he arrived here about nine o'clock, taking it immediately to the sorrowful home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hines, on Cherry street. The body evidently had been on the surface of the water some time, the face being terribly mutilated. This same party had passed by this point on several occasions; evidently the body had lodged on the island within a few hours from the time it was discovered. The parents, who have suffered untold grief since their little one met with the terrible accident, will now feel some relief that the treacherous river has given up their darling boy. The funeral of the little boy was held this morning at ten o'clock, at St. Patrick's church, and was attended by a large number of sympathizing friends of the family, there being sixty-five carriages in the funeral procession.

Fashionable Dress Goods.

Importations of dress goods, velvets, the velveteens, etc., just received at T. A. Chapman & Co's. Read their advertisement on the second page.

D Company, Second Wisconsin.

The Gazette, a couple of weeks ago, published the following item:

"The following, from the Milwaukee Sunday Telegram, is published for the benefit of the people named: Captain W. W. Jones, of Madison, of the 2d Wisconsin, writes: 'John H. Kellogg D Company, 2d Wisconsin, P. O. address New Albany, Wisconsin county, Kansas, State.' It was in the last issue of the Milwaukee Herald that I published the following item: 'A dispatch from the 2d Wisconsin, dated at Kansas, Mo., August 1st, 1883, stating that a skeleton of a man, who appears to have been killed by a bullet, was found in the river near Afton, and was taken to the city by a farmer living near by. The body was found at the head of one of the islands about three-quarters of a mile below Afton, the searching party who found the body consisted of Thomas F. Hines, a brother of little Willie, Thomas Rutting, Patrick Butler and Patrick Murphy. The body was taken to the shore, when one of the party went to Afton and sent a dispatch to Marshal Hogan. Aid J. B. McLean, of the fifth ward, procured a team and started down the river to bring the body to the city, but in the mean time a farmer living near by volunteered to bring the body, and he arrived here about nine o'clock, taking it immediately to the sorrowful home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hines, on Cherry street. The body evidently had been on the surface of the water some time, the face being terribly mutilated. This same party had passed by this point on several occasions; evidently the body had lodged on the island within a few hours from the time it was discovered. The parents, who have suffered untold grief since their little one met with the terrible accident, will now feel some relief that the treacherous river has given up their darling boy. The funeral of the little boy was held this morning at ten o'clock, at St. Patrick's church, and was attended by a large number of sympathizing friends of the family, there being sixty-five carriages in the funeral procession.'

This item caught the eye of Captain Hines, who immediately wrote the Gazette as follows:

NEW YORK, August 6th, 1883.

A paragraph appears in the Weekly Gazette of 2d inst., which I enclose. The statement which John H. Kellogg, D Co., 2d Wisconsin, appears to have made to Capt. Jones, is wholly inaccurate in so far as it relates to me.

I have not been so care to be "too busy to reply" to any letter from any member of that grand old company. As to Kellogg, he first wrote me last summer and has written me several times since. I have written him in reply, with care, and particularly. I have also been written to by the commissioner of pensions and have replied as fully as I could.

The trouble is that Kellogg, in my recollection Kellogg was not wounded in the head by "that terrible shell that exploded in our midst at South Mountain, Md." nor elsewhere.

This was my recollection when Kellogg first applied to me, but in the hope of refreshing memory, I asked him to send me a full statement of facts. The statement sent was a confirmation of the correctness of my recollection. He said he left the field with Zoust, a sergeant whom I had reduced to the ranks for cowardice after the second Bull Run, who was not on the field of battle and was a deserter.

Willoughd at all times to serve to the best of my ability any member of that historic company, I am not willing to aid in selling its record by certifying to unfounded claims, nor to let pass unchallenged any imputation that I am negligent or unfaithful to the sacred duty a soldier owes to his comrades.

Yours very truly,

GEO. B. ELY.

We have examined the files of the Gazette, looking for the name of John H. Kellogg. The D company, (Janesville Volunteers) left Janesville on May 6th, 1861, for Camp Randall, and on that day the Gazette published the names of all members of the company, but the name of Kellogg does not appear. On June 20th, 1861, the second regiment passed through this city enroute for Washington, and stopped long enough for dinner, which was provided by the citizens at the depot. The Gazette again published the list of members of D company on that day, and neither the name of Kellogg or Zoust appear. We made several inquiries, and are unable to find anyone

The Death of Mrs. Beach.

Mrs. Mary R. Beach, whose death had been expected for some time, died at her home in the fourth ward at 4:30 yesterday afternoon. She had lived in Janesville some ten years, coming from Hartford, Connecticut. She leaves one son, H. L. Beach, who lives at Hartford, and a brother, Colonel L. B. Hanks, of Mystic, Connecticut, and Mr. L. S. Hanks, of Madison, is a nephew. The funeral will take place at Trinity church at 10:30 to-morrow, after which the remains will be taken to Hartford for burial. During her residence in this city Mrs. Beach gained the warm friendship of our people. She was an admirable lady and her death will be deeply mourned.

Prof. Horsford's Baking Powder.

Prof. Wm. M. HARRISON, Analytical Chemist to the Providence Exchange, New York, says that he has tested nine of the prominent baking powders purchased in open market, by disinterested persons, and finds that Horsford's has fully outstripped the rest, more so than any of the others.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 58 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with east wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 57 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy, with east wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 53 and 60 degrees above zero.

WASHINGTON, August 9, 1 a. m.—The following are the indications for to-day.

Upper Lake region—Partly cloudy weather and local rains, variable winds, followed by rising barometer, and nearly stationary temperature.

Attention at Milwaukee.

Applications for space continue to pour in for the coming fall exhibition by the Milwaukee Industrial Exposition association, and the number of entries now made number about six hundred. A display beyond all precedent is guaranteed, by the management and the attractions offered of the best. The museum of fine art in itself a wonder of wonders, and the opportunity presented for viewing one of the grandest exhibits in this line without extra charge should not be lost. The collection is the property of Prof. A. A. Ward, of Rochester, N. Y., and has only been accumulated after years of labor and study, and at a great expense the Milwaukee exposition pays all expense of bringing six car loads of these wonderful specimens, consisting of the skeleton of a whale forty feet long. Minerals, rocks and fossils, collection of mounted mammals; shells and corals, a series of mounted skeletons from small sizes to an elephant, and in fact all the parasites which tend to make up a first class museum. This vast collection of space and alone is worth a trip to Milwaukee. The general exhibition will far surpass anything yet presented, and the building has been laid out in a most tasteful and attractive manner. The railroads offer their usual excursion rates whereby parties may visit the Metropolis of the state in the most beautiful season of the year, at a nominal cost. The hotel accommodations of the city are ample, and there will be no increase of regular prices during the exposition. There will be no side shows this year, 25 cents admits you to all. Don't miss it.

THREW AWAY HIS CRUTCHES.

"Suffered from rheumatism so badly bad to use crutches, but threw them away after applying Thomas' Electric Oil to my limbs. I now feel better than I have for years." F. L. Gibbs, 300 Elk street, Buffalo, N. Y.
